Testimonials

“Charlene Lamb ... with responsibility for all internal and external communications. She made an immediate impact, displaying her professionalism and extensive experience in communications, marketing, advertising and journalism.

... Charlene was appointed Country Communications Manager and sat on the Country Executive Committee. Her dynamic and committed leadership of her department created good visibility for Lafarge South Africa and enhanced the image of the company. Her handling of the repositioning of the Lafarge brand in South Africa during 2013, Wellness strategy and several internal communications programmes were highly successful.

Charlene is dedicated to passing on her knowledge to her subordinates and voluntarily assumes a valuable mentorship role, while demanding high standards of professionalism from her staff.”

Thierry Legrand
Country CEO Lafarge South Africa

... “I write to congratulate you on the new-look newsletter, whose colourful design is attractive and the glossy cover layout impressive.

... Once again, congratulations on a job well done and we look forward to reading the next issue.”

Barbara Masekela
Ambassador South African Embassy in Washington DC, USA

... “In her role as Communications Manager, she oversaw the department’s internal and external communications, advertising and marketing, as well as developing mutually symbiotic relationships with external vendors, including Communications, Advertising and PR agencies.

Ms Lamb worked on the Communications Strategy and the Communications Operational Plan of the company and ensured it was implemented effectively in both internal and external markets. She always kept her eye on the bigger picture: putting procedures into place to ensure an effective rollout strategy. To this end, she developed good relationships with the media, hosting Press Conferences to ensure a positive image of the company was projected and new technologies and projects were published. She was also instrumental in revamping our marketing materials to reflect a professional, compelling and impactful impression. Ms Lamb also put procedures in place to improve internal communications by mentoring and empowering her support staff, with whom she has enjoyed very good relationships.

... Ms Lamb is a visionary, forward thinking and solution-orientated individual who believes in the development and empowerment of people; something she took very seriously.

... She is a hard working, loyal employee, often going the extra mile to complete projects. She is morally upright and her integrity is beyond approach, often speaking her mind in a forthright, yet diplomatic manner. She is reliable and dependable and enjoys a challenge.”

Salani Sithole
Group Manager – Marketing and Business Development SSI
... “Ms Avis had overall responsibility for the Marketing and Public Relations divisions of the firm. She wrote and implemented the marketing and public relations strategies and activities, initiated, compiled content and disseminated the firm’s electronic newsletter monthly, wrote legal articles for both magazine and web publications, wrote press releases and worked with the American Immigration Lawyers Association (AILA). She ensured press coverage was obtained in appropriate target publications according to the message of the release and its audience. She was also responsible for point-of-sale materials, collateral and brochures; always ensuring that the brand essence, brand promise and integrity of our firm’s brand was kept intact.

Furthermore, Ms Avis was responsible for event management, press launches, business events as well as marketing functions, where she managed the events in an extremely organized fashion and always represented and promoted the firm in a professional and efficient manner. She also dealt with our advertising agency, conceptualizing and managing campaigns; doing copy writing, editing and approving of suggested creative. She did media analysis, selection and placement of the media buy and managed the media spend. She did market research, formal and informal; interpreting data and channeling information appropriately. She was responsible for media relations and management, dissemination of information, press kit management, editing – written and photographic. She was also responsible for communications—both internal and external.

Ms Avis also had her own clients, which she dealt with in a professional and courteous manner. Her communications skills, both written and verbal, are excellent and her attention to detail is exemplary. She is an excellent negotiator and her diplomacy skills are an asset to any company. She is hard working, committed to her job and is able to multi-task effectively.”

Mitch Berenson, Esq.
President Law Offices of Mitch Berenson

... “Ms Lamb consulted my business in the field of communications, public relations and marketing and as a result of her advice, helped drive my business to greater heights and additional clients. Her understanding of the communications field—its principles and theories and the implementation of them; from strategy to writing, to organizing my communications campaigns as well as follow-through, was phenomenal. She is an effective communicator who enjoys an acute understanding of the various communications requirements in various contexts of business, thereby always achieving the goal of the project. She built my corporate image and helped create a buzz in the identified target markets for my business. She is also an excellent writer and would write communications for my business.

Ms Lamb also obtained free PR in the form of editorial content in the print media as well as public speaking engagements, which in Beverly Hills, are perceived as an endorsement and credibility booster.

I also hired Ms Lamb to assist me in the marketing of my business, which she did with aplomb.

She was a highly regarded member of her community in the United States, and I was often exposed to events where she was invited to do public speaking engagements (e.g. at the invitation of the SA Consul General to Los Angeles). Besides her consultancy business, she was also the Managing Editor of the acclaimed SA expat magazine, JULUKA, in the US.

Ms Lamb also assisted my business in media relations, something she is excellent at.

In order to better understand the American marketplace and its culture, she enrolled at UCLA’s communications school; where she completed courses in Entertainment Publicity and Events Management.

Her ideas and input are highly valued. She is a smart, savvy woman, whom I would not hesitate to recommend to potential clients.”

Charlotte Gray
President - The Acting Place/Act Now Coaching
Beverly Hills, CA, USA

... “Ms Avis has achieved great success with JULUKA; utilizing her strategic, marketing, public relations and communications skills.

She was appropriately officially recognized by the South African Ambassador to the United States, Ms Barbara Masekela for the turnaround of JULUKA. The magazine was ultimately welcomed back into the Embassy as well as three South African Consulates in the United States.

Ms Avis dramatically increased the financial/business side of the magazine.

Under Ms Avis’ leadership, JULUKA has become a household name in the United States. She has ensured that the magazine has been well marketed and promoted and enjoys a high level of recognition and credibility in the marketplace. This has been well endorsed, as evidenced by her getting the magazine onto the national South African carrier, South African Airways, departing from both New York’s JFK gateway as well as Washington DC.

Ms Avis’ driven, positive and embracing, bubbly personality has held her in good stead in the marketplace and has made her welcome in the community, at both a social, business and government level. She has dealt with top echelons of society to those on the ground, and they all respect and admire her. She is often invited to top level interviews, including former South African State President and Nobel Peace Prize Winner, Mr. FW de Klerk, former Deputy State President of South Africa, Mr. Jacob Zuma to top medical personnel in the United States. The list goes on and on. Ms Avis is a networker extraordinaire and has created many positive contacts for JULUKA.”
